

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start!
- Let's Explore!
- Let's Practice!
- Extension Activity
- Target Words
- Learning Points

Let's Start!

We all make mistakes!

Learning Outcome

Relate information about common solutions to problems.

Ask your partner:

- What kinds of things put you in a bad mood?
- Have you ever gotten angry at something and found out later that you were wrong to be angry? What happened?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about reactions and behavior.
- I can talk about hypothetical situations about the past.
- I can quote other people.

Let's Explore!

It's Vanessa's turn to be cranky!

* "Cranky" means in a bad mood or irritable.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Sally: Hello?

Vanessa: Hey, Sally.

Sally: What's up? You sound cranky.

Vanessa: I should have taken my own advice about being more aware of other people's emotions.

Sally: Why? What happened?

Vanessa: I got into a bit of an argument with one of my employees and it could have been avoided.

Sally: Tell me what happened.

Vanessa: One of the waitresses told me a few days ago that she couldn't work yesterday. I should have written it down but I was busy and frazzled so I didn't. So, of course, I forgot.

Sally: Ooops. But maybe she should have written it down, or sent you an e-mail.

Vanessa: That would have been helpful, yes. But anyway, when she didn't show up for her shift yesterday, I was furious! We had so many reservations and I really needed her.

Sally: So what did you do?

Vanessa: I called her cell. She answered and I immediately started yelling at her, and asked her why she wasn't at work.

Sally: And ... ?

Vanessa: After I stopped flipping out on her, she reminded me that she had told me she couldn't work the shift. And she told me that she was at a funeral.

Sally: Oh no! What did you do?

Vanessa: I apologized, of course. I feel terrible. And apparently everyone else at the restaurant knew about the funeral but I was so immersed in myself that I didn't notice how upset she was.

Sally: Well, when you see her you can apologize in person. And then start working on your emotional intelligence.

Let's Practice!

Vanessa describes a conversation with a waitress at her job. What was her employee's explanation for missing work?

Instructions: Classify the sentences below into the given categories.

- 1) One of the waitresses told me that she couldn't work
- 2) She said that she couldn't work
- 3) She reminded me that she had told me that she couldn't work.
- 4) We had so many reservations and really needed her.
- 5) When you see her you can apologize in person.
- 6) Tell me what happened.
- 7) I got into a bit of an argument with one of my employees.
- 8) she told me that she was at a funeral.

Direct Speech

Reported Speech

Let's Practice!

Vanessa was an emotional wreck.*

An "emotional wreck" means that a person is feeling a number of emotions including sadness, confusion, and anxiety.

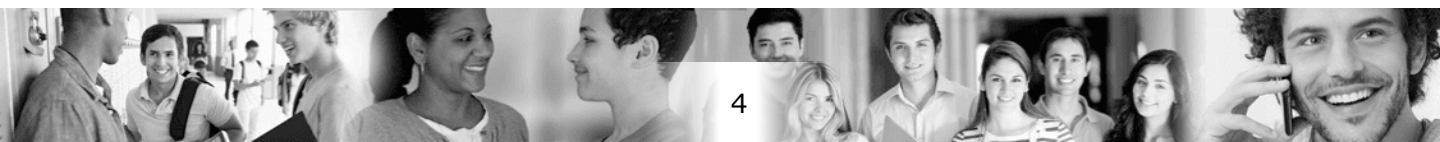

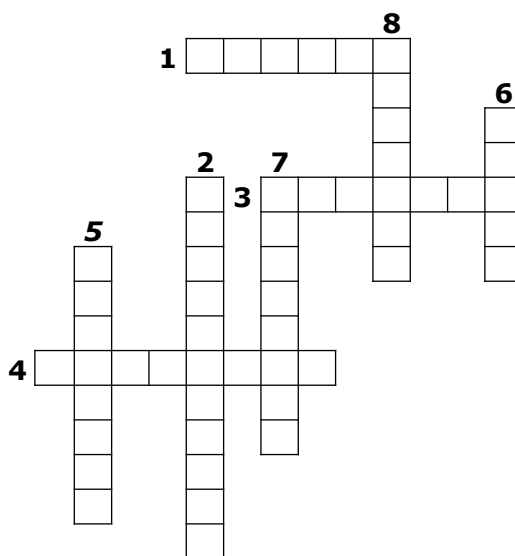

Instructions: Read the hints and complete the crossword. Write the number of each sentence in the corresponding category.

Down

- 2) I stoppled flipping out on her.
- 5) everyone at the restaurant knew about the funeral, but I was so immersed in myself.
- 6) I didn't notice how upset she was.
- 7) I was so frazzled.
- 8) I immediately starting yelling at her.

Across

- 1) It's Vanessa's turn to be cranking.
- 3) I was furious
- 4) I feel terrible.

Extension Activity

Role-play explaining a mistake.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Imagine that you have made a big mistake because of a misunderstanding.
- With a partner, write a dialogue between a friend who made a mistake and a friend who is listening and giving advice.
- Write at least 10 lines of dialogue.
- Perform your role-play for your class.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I talk about reactions and behavior.

☐
☐

I talk about hypothetical situations about the past.

☐
☐

I quote other people.

☐
☐

I write and perform a role-play.

☐
☐

Target Words

- a bit (expression): a small portion, degree, or amount e.g. I got into a bit of an argument with one of my employees.
- aware (adjective): knowing that something, such as a situation, exists e.g. It's important to be aware of other people's emotions.
- furious (adjective): very angry
e.g. I was furious!
- frazzled (adjective): very tired
e.g. I should have written it down but I was busy and frazzled so I didn't.
- to yell (verb): to say something very loudly to get someone's attention e.g. I immediately started yelling at her.
- to flip out (expression): to become very excited or angry e.g. I flipped out on my co-worker yesterday.
- funeral (noun): a ceremony held for a dead person
e.g. I attended my grandfather's funeral last week.
- immersed (adjective): fully involved in something e.g. I was so immersed in myself that I didn't notice how upset she was.

Learning Points

Talking Hypothetically About the Past

You use could have, should have and would have to talk about things that were possible in the past and may or may not have happened.

The structure:

Subject + modal verb + have + verb (past participle)

I could have done

You should have made

She would have said

You use could have to talk about possibilities if something had been different in the past.
For example: It could have been avoided.

You use should have to talk about past events that did not happen and to speculate about events that may or may not have happened.
For example: I should have taken my own advice.

You use should not have to speculate negatively about what may or may not have happened.

You also use should not have to express regret for past actions.

You use would have to imagine a result if something had been different in the past.
For example: That would have been helpful.

* Would have expresses more certainty about the result than could have.

Examples:

- I should have taken my own advice about being more aware of other people's emotions.
- It could have been avoided.
- I should have written it down but I was busy and frazzled so I didn't.
- She should have written it down.
- That would have been helpful.

Reported Speech and Questions

You use reported speech when you are saying (reporting) what other people said.

When you tell people what someone has said in the past, you need to change the verb to a tense further back in time.

For example:

Learning Points

Direct Speech	Reported Speech
"I like him."	He said he liked him.
"I'm coming to the party."	He said he was coming .
"I already ate ."	He said he had already eaten .
"I can cook."	He told me he could cook.
"Where do you live ?"	He asked me where I lived .

You have to change the pronoun if you are reporting what someone else said. Compare these two sentences. In each case the person actually said "I don't want to go."

- I said, "I don't want to go." > I said I didn't want to go.
- Bill said, "I don't want to go." > Bill said he didn't want to go.

Look at the chart below to see the changes in verb tense.

Direct Speech	Reported Speech
Simple Present	Simple Past
Present Progressive	Past Progressive
Simple Past	Past Perfect
Present Perfect	Past Perfect
Past Progressive	Past Perfect Progressive
Future Simple (will)	Conditional (would)
Modal can	Modal could
Modal may	Modal might
Modal will	Modal would

Examples:

- One of the waitresses told me a few days ago that she couldn't work yesterday.
- I asked her why she wasn't at work.
- She reminded me that she had told me she couldn't work the shift.
- She told me that she was at a funeral.

