

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Thinking about other people

Learning Outcome

Describe hypothetical situations in spoken interactions according to work and social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- Have you ever gotten involved in someone's affairs when you shouldn't have? What happened?
- When is it good to get involved in what someone else is doing and when is it good to stay out of it?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about reactions and behavior.
- I can talk about hypothetical situations about the past.
- I can quote other people.

Let's Explore!

Sally thinks she should have minded her own business.

* To "mind your own business" means to not get involved with something that is not your concern.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Vanessa: So, how is your week going?

Sally: I'm telling you, it's really not my week. I should have stayed in bed all week.

Vanessa: You told me that things were a bit difficult at work. What else happened?

Sally: I took the bus downtown today. It should have been a smooth trip.

Vanessa: But ...

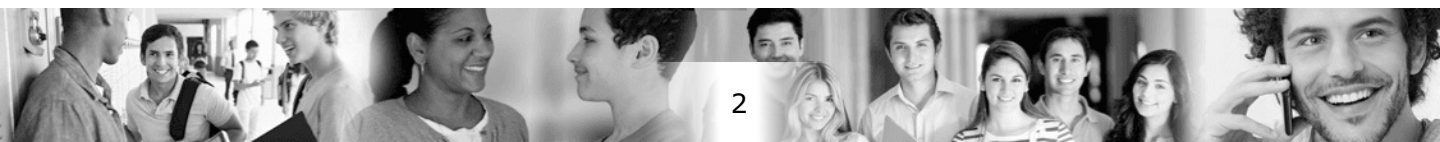

Sally: This young guy got on the bus and sat in the last empty seat. At the next stop, an elderly woman got on the bus. The young guy could have offered his seat but he didn't. I asked the young guy if he would get up. He told me he was tired! I was incensed! I thought he was being so selfish.

Vanessa: So then what happened?

Sally: I went up to the driver and told him that this guy refused to give up his seat. The driver stopped the bus and went and told this guy that he had to vacate the seat for this elderly woman. The guy got up and it was then that I noticed he had a cast on his ankle! I wouldn't have told him to move if I had seen the cast! I should have minded my own business! I felt awful and was so embarrassed!

Vanessa: Well, you should have been more observant and aware of his emotional state, but you thought you were doing the right thing. Don't beat yourself up about it.

Sally: I guess I have to keep working on my emotional intelligence!

Let's Practice!

What were people saying about the incident on the bus? There were plenty of opinions.

Instructions: Match the sentences on the left their corresponding part on the right.

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1) You told me that | a) guy he had to vacate the seat for the elderly woman. |
| 2) I asked the | b) him that this guy refused to give up his seat. |
| 3) I went up the the driver and told | c) he was tired! |
| 4) He said that he would not | d) young guy if he would get up. |
| 5) He told me that | e) give up his seat |
| 6) The driver stopped the bus and went and told this | f) things were a bit difficult at work. |

Let's Practice!

Sally misunderstood the situation on the bus. She responded without knowing all the facts*.

* A "Fact" is something that truly exists or happens

Instructions: Complete the sentences by choosing from the words below.

Word Bank

- | | | | |
|------------|-------------|---------|---------------|
| • Incensed | • Observant | • Aware | • Embarrassed |
| • Week | • Beat | • Right | • Awful |
| | | | • Selfish |

- I felt _____ and was so _____!
- You should have been more _____ and _____ of his of his emotional state.
- You thought you were doing the _____ thing.
- I was _____!
- I thought he was being so _____.
- I'm telling you, it's really not my _____.
- Don't _____ yourself up about it.

Extension Activity

Watch Due Date and create a timeline.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Watch the 2010 movie Due Date.
- Make notes about all the things that happen to Peter.
- Create a timeline to summarize Peter's experience.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I talk about reactions and behavior.

☐ ☐

I talk about hypothetical situations about the past.

☐ ☐

I use reported speech.

☐ ☐

I watch a movie and create a timeline.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- elderly (adjective): old, like a senior citizen
e.g. At the next stop, an elderly woman got on the bus.
- to offer (verb): to give someone the opportunity to accept or take something e.g. The young guy could have offered her his seat but he didn't.
- smooth (adjective): happening or done without any problems
e.g. It should have been a smooth trip.
- to refuse (verb): to say that you will not accept something e.g. I went up to the driver and told him that this guy refused to give up his seat.
- incensed (adjective): very angry
e.g. I was incensed by his rude behavior.
- to vacate (verb): to leave a job or position
e.g. The driver stopped the bus and went and told this guy he had to vacate the seat for the elderly woman.
- cast (noun): a hard covering that is put on an arm or leg so that a broken bone can heal e.g. The guy got up and it was then that I noticed he had a cast on his ankle!
- embarrassed (adjective): feeling confused or foolish in front of people e.g. I felt awful and was so embarrassed!
- observant (adjective): good at watching and listening
e.g. You should have been more observant and aware of his emotional state.

Learning Points

Talking Hypothetically About the Past

You use could have, should have and would have to talk about things that were possible in the past and may or may not have happened.

The structure:

Subject + modal verb + have + verb (past participle)

I could have done

You should have made

She would have said

You use could have to talk about possibilities if something had been different in the past.
For example: The young guy could have offered her his seat but he didn't.

You use should have to talk about past events that did not happen and to speculate about events that may or may not have happened.
For example: I should have stayed in bed all week.

You use should not have to speculate negatively about what may or may not have happened.

You also use should not have to express regret for past actions.

You use would have to imagine a result if something had been different in the past.
For example: I wouldn't have told him to move if I had seen the cast!

* Would have expresses more certainty about the result than could have.

Examples:

- I should have stayed in bed all week.
- It should have been a smooth trip.
- The young guy could have offered her his seat but he didn't.
- I wouldn't have told him to move if I had seen the cast!
- I should have minded my own business!

Reported Speech and Questions

You use reported speech when you are saying (reporting) what other people said.

When you tell people what someone has said in the past, you need to change the verb to a tense further back in time.

For example:

Learning Points

Direct Speech	Reported Speech
"I like him."	He said he liked him.
"I'm coming to the party."	He said he was coming .
"I already ate ."	He said he had already eaten .
"I can cook."	He told me he could cook.
"Where do you live ?"	He asked me where I lived .

You have to change the pronoun if you are reporting what someone else said. Compare these two sentences. In each case the person actually said "I don't want to go."

- I said, "I don't want to go." > I said I didn't want to go.
- Bill said, "I don't want to go." > Bill said he didn't want to go.

Look at the chart below to see the changes in verb tense.

Direct Speech	Reported Speech
Simple Present	Simple Past
Present Progressive	Past Progressive
Simple Past	Past Perfect
Present Perfect	Past Perfect
Past Progressive	Past Perfect Progressive
Future Simple (will)	Conditional (would)
Modal can	Modal could
Modal may	Modal might

Examples:

- You told me that things were a bit difficult at work.
- I asked the young guy if he would get up.
- He told me he was tired!
- I told him that this guy refused to give up his seat.
- He told this guy he had to vacate the seat for the elderly woman.

